LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Class of 1949, Woodward School for Girls, being of sound body and questionable mind, do hereby will and bequeath on this day, the thirteenth of June, nineteen hundred and forty-nine, our last will and testament, revoking any and all other wills and testaments hitherto made by us. We, the "forty-niners", do hereby leave to our school, faculty, and friends, the following items:

Miss Bacon – a forty-eight hour day and a right hand man to answer the telephone during Senior English.

Mrs. Balch – air conditioning for the gym and an automatic attendance taker that will track down those who "forgot" they had gym.

Mrs. Cobb – a shepherd's staff to keep her sheep from jumping out of the lunch-room line.

Miss Cole – a double sink in the Art Room and a direct wire to a paper factory.

Mrs. Hall – an inexhaustible supply of Joan Lennons and time to write a book.

Miss Kempton – a mechanical device that will pull all Glee Club members towards the hall at "exactly one o'clock."

Miss Lane – an Art student who will draw Venus as she was meant to be drawn.

Mrs. Millard – a donation to buy 100 pairs of soft-soled shoes to be worn by all students en route to class after lunch period.

Mrs. Noyes – a senior class that will choose their Bible readings before eight-fifteen.

Miss Quirk – a sound-proof language room so as not to be disturbed by seniors "studying" in the Senior Room.

Miss Roberts – a helicopter to aid her in commuting to and from "the country" and a mate for Oscar.

Mr. Mac – three full-time helpers and an elevator.

Madrigal – a player piano – what will they do without Nancy?

Maintenance – a wastebasket for the lower corridor that will hold a ton of empty lunch bags.

The Juniors – condensed versions of "Lorna Doone" and "Forsyte Saga", and a detailed book of Mythology – They'll need it!

The Sophomores — Five hundred dollars ($500) to spend on their Prom next year.

The Freshmen — the joys of belonging to the upper school and the problems of geometry.

The Eighth Grade — the thrill of having someone tell them that they won't have to take Latin next year.

The Seventh Grade — an atom bomb to do with as they please.

Signed on this thirteenth day of June, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and forty-nine.

CLASS PROPHECY

The "forty-niners" of Woodward (the best class there ever was, naturally), are still continually in the news both at home and abroad. Now in this year, 1959, let us take a peek and see what these "Women of the World" are doing.

Gladys Adams

Gladys almost missed a marriage proposal by her millionaire boss because she was two hours late for work. Those big blue eyes made him forget everything else, though.

Verdia Almquist

The social columns of Boston's leading newspapers are bursting with the news of Verdia's engagement to a French professor. She has been teaching in France for the past few years.

Jeanette Anderson

Jean and her husband have recently produced a new type of Maine potato. Besides potatoes, she and hubby have also produced a robust family of three boys.

Celine Costigan

Celine, our first married, also has the greatest number of children – five. She can be heard calling her little brood in at about six each evening for their story hour with Papa.

Marcia Curtis

Sally is successfully operating a Dress Shoppe in Miami Beach. She always did keep us in stitches. She spends her spare time trying to catch baby alligators to send to her former classmates.

Phoebe Forsythe

Phoebe, owner of a nationwide chain of florist shops, has recently married her only serious competitor. Together they completely monopolize the florist business. Each year they give substantial cuts to the young lads of Quincy who are attending a Woodward dance.

Jean Holstead

Jean is now at the New England Deaconess Hospital where she is in charge of the maternity ward. She is engaged to a rising young doctor.

Jean Kelly

Jean is the editor of the lovelorn column in the Boston Herald. You never can tell about quiet gals, can you?

Carol Kimball

Carol has just returned from England where she starred on the American team at the Olympics with her 110. In the winter, she runs a sailing camp in Palm Beach teaching youngsters how to "haul in that jib".

Joan Lennon

Joan's twin daughters nightly watch their glamorous mother, who is among the famous celebrities in Shubert Alley. They have Room 917, Hotel Piccadilly, where Everyone stays.

Ruth MacCracken

Professor MacCracken has recently isolated another element on a trip to Alaska with her scientist husband. Her loving spouse takes an inventory of her fingers each night to be sure that none have been blown off.

Jean Mahler

Jean is one of the leading financiers of Wall Street. She is one of the top money-makers in the country.

Virginia McLay

Mickey, because of her love for the language, has written a best seller entitled "Why Every Girl Should Study Latin" or "I Need You Like I Need a Hole In The Head". She is married to an ex-Navy man and is busy raising a small fleet of her own.

Natalie Morse

The $10,000 fire at the Boston Dispensary happened because of our Natalie. In the process of making a sure-cure for insomnia, she accidentally blew up the lab.

Ann Marie Murphy

"Murph", whose Rhumba Lessons attract all of Boston's socialites, spends her days teaching Mythology at B. U. Those stars in her eyes aren't for the Greek Gods though; they're for that new professor across the hall.

Alison Robbins

Alison is known to the people of her church as "The Rev". She is one of the few women in Massachusetts who are able to preach to their husbands.

Nancy Sterling

Nan is keeping Woodward in the headlines by holding the World's Golf Championship for Women. Her manager is arranging a game between Nan and Bobby Locke.

Carolyn Stewart

"Stewie" has been elected one of the outstanding women in the United States. Her time is divided between nursing and swimming in the "Aqua Parade".

Nancy Zinck

Nurse Zinck is known as "Miss Economic" of the New England Deaconess Hospital. She tickles the ivories before an operation; the patient goes to sleep; result – no anesthesia needed. (Economical, eh?)

P. S. We really turned out better than you expected, didn't we?
